What is Picl?

Picl combines networking and business process automation, improving engagement and retention throughout your client onboarding process.

We offer your businesses a lightweight AI platform, allowing you to turn conversations about your products and/or services into short video or audio posts. These posts integrate seamlessly with an easy-to-use, lead-generating chatbot.

Your chatbot and posts are neatly packaged into a website pop-up for visitors to your website to engage with, blending human interaction with AI's automation power.

How is Picl Different

Streamlined setup

Your chatbot is easily trained with voice prompts, akin to instructing an intern to handle phone calls. This natural approach fosters an ongoing, organic relationship with your chatbot.

Guided onboarding

Progress at your own pace. We accompany you throughout your AI journey, offering Picl not as a fixed platform to adapt to, but as a customizable solution tailored to your needs.

Human Centric

While AI is powerful, it's not a panacea. It does, however, provide a competitive edge to businesses that adopt it. We view AI as a tool to augment the unique value that you already bring to your businesses.

What we offer

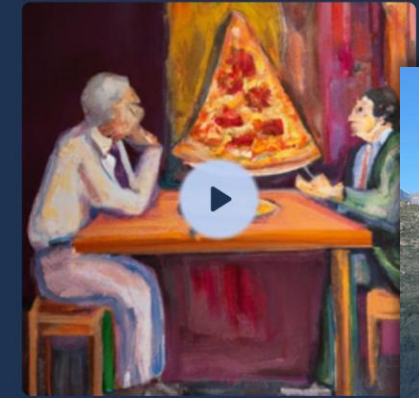

Content Generation.

Social media platforms are now algorithm-driven, demanding constant posting to stay relevant, sacrificing quality for quantity. Picl uses AI to streamline content creation, ensuring relevance over frequency or popularity. Video or audio posts, alongside your chatbot, humanize first impressions of your business.

What we offer

Custom business process automation

Think of a chatbot like the lead singer in a band — they get most of the attention, but success depends on many invisible processes that support them. Once you're comfortable with the core Picl chatbot, explore enhancing its capabilities by automating repetitive tasks specific to your business. We at Picl can assist you by creating custom functions that integrate seamlessly with your chatbot.
